

Summer Reading Requirement
School Year 2024-2025
Required for All Incoming 7th – 12th Grade Students
DUE DATE: Friday, August 23, 2024

Dear Castle Hills Parents and Students,

The Christian School at Castle Hills is committed to promoting a habit of lifelong reading for every student. Using a variety of lists and resources suggesting quality books for young adults, we have endeavored to curate literature appropriate to the age, maturity level, and life experience of each grade. Selections are therefore intended to be challenging and thought-provoking without undermining our Christ-centered worldview. However, in portraying real human problems, including suffering and sin, negative elements will inherently be included. Indeed, it is nearly impossible to find novels that do not include characteristics that could be considered offensive by someone. Humanity is flawed, and literature reflects this, often with the express purpose of highlighting the corresponding virtues, the triumph of good over evil, the opportunity and need for redemption, and so forth.

We recognize that every student is different, and some may not be ready to encounter various selections, even ones that are routinely suggested for that grade; and we are happy to accommodate if needed. To help you and your student make selections from our summer reading list, we have included links to reviews whenever possible. We encourage you to investigate these books further as may be appropriate for your family and the needs of your individual student and to consider reading along and discussing the book with your student.

Listed below are the directions and expectations for the assignment, which will count as a test grade in English the first week of school. Students will read two books this summer: one class novel and one chosen from a list.

Summer Reading Response Questions for Grades 7-12, Summer 2024

These questions are for the book you have chosen to read from the list for your grade level. Please read all directions carefully, type your responses to each of the following, and be prepared to submit by Friday, August 23, 2024, at the beginning of your English class. Include an MLA heading.

1. Create a bibliographic citation for your book following MLA guidelines. It should look like this:

Author's Last Name, First Name. Title of Book. Publisher's City: Publisher, Copyright Date. Print.

Example:

Levine, Gail Carson. Writing Magic. New York: Harper Collins Children's Books, 2006. Print.

2. Please thoroughly answer each of the following questions in complete sentences:

Questions for FICTION books:

- A. What is the setting (when and where the story takes place)?
- B. Who is the protagonist (lead character, hero/heroine)?
- C. Who/what is the antagonist (villain, adversary)?
- D. What is the climax (decisive moment that is of maximum intensity or the major turning point in a story)?
- E. What is the main conflict (struggle between opposing forces)? What two characters/forces are involved in the conflict?
- F. What is the conclusion to the story (how is the conflict resolved)?

Questions for NONFICTION books:

- A. Do you disagree, or only partially agree, with any of the author's claims? Why? Explain in detail.
- B. List at least two questions that occurred to you as you read the book.
- C. List at least two unanswered questions you still have after finishing the book.
- D. How will you apply what you have learned from reading this book?
- E. Do you recommend that others read the book? Why or why not?

3. Please thoroughly answer the following questions regarding your thoughts about the book. Use complete sentences and support your answers with text references:

- A. What life lessons did you learn from this book? Be specific, and explain how the book demonstrates this lesson.
- B. What history, culture, events, and issues did you learn about while reading this book? Explain your answer.
- C. A classic is a book that educators and readers still find valuable even though it may not be modern. Why do you think people would consider this book a classic? Explain your answer using text references.
- D. Sometimes books touch you, reminding you of your own life, as part of the larger human experience. What are at least 3 connections you made between the book and your own life, an event (or events) that happened to someone you know, and/or what happened in another book you've read? Explain.
- E. What are your three favorite lines/quotes?
 - a. Copy them from the book using correct punctuation and the page number.
 - b. Then, summarize each passage in your own words and explain why each passage individually stood out to you as significant.
